Board Approves Retirements, Facility Study, and Increases

During the months of February and March, the School District of Shiocton Board of Education took action on six retirement requests.

Long-time educators, Mr. Tim Huebner and Mrs. Deb Scott, will both be retiring at the end of the current school year having served the youth of our community for 34 years. Mr. Huebner noted that, in addition to the continued professional development he participated in to enhance his instruction, he is proud of the many improvements and opportunities made possible for teachers and students through funds raised from the Middle School Paper Drive. Over $43,000 was raised during the decade in which Mr. Huebner oversaw the recycling program. Mrs. Scott recalled knowing that she had “finally found the school district (she) would call home” when she was hired to teach ECH at the beginning of the 1988-1999 school year. One of the best perks of being a teacher in Shiocton was the ability to watch her own children as they grew, learned, and participated in the many offerings available in Shiocton schools. Mrs. Christine Anderson, choir teacher, will also retire in June after 19 years with the district. Mrs. Anderson expressed a deep regard for her time here, noting that the “Shiocton School District will always have a special place in my heart”. She expressed an appreciation for the support and trust afforded her over the years as she grew both the choir offerings, as well as the vocal talents of her many students.

In addition to these educators, two long-time paraprofessionals, Mrs. Joyce Baggott and Mrs. Lori Ritchie, will be retiring at the end of the school year after 24 years of service to our learners. Mrs. Ritchie, long standing aid in the LMC, thanked the staff, students, teachers, administration, and Board for the many years of support, noting “it has been my great honor to be able to serve the Shiocton School District”. Mrs. Baggott, a “Jill of all trades”, has served in a multitude of roles at various grade levels. In addition to supporting learners in the classroom, Joyce has provided supervision for them during recess and while transporting our youngest learners to and from school in the vans. Mrs. Baggott, ever present with a smile, noted that she has enjoyed working in the district all these years. Additionally, Mrs. Sue Cismoski, middle school paraprofessional, will be retiring in June after six years with the district. Mrs. Cismoski brought many strategies, ideas, and resources when she joined us after serving as a paraprofessional in a neighboring district. She, as well as a few of the other retirees, have expressed an interest in serving as a substitute in the coming year.

The Board also approved the issuance of a Facility Study Request for Proposal. The RFP seeks proposals from firms with experience in educational issues and facility planning. From the proposals received, the Board expects to select one firm who will conduct a full audit of the district building, studying both current and future needs, and then provide a priority matrix regarding potential upgrades, remodeling, and/or building to meet those needs. The RFP is available on our District webpage at <https://www.shiocton.k12.wi.us/district/>. (cont. on Page 2)

CHIEF CHATTER

Kudos to the Cast

Adversity. Flexibility. Humor. These three words aptly describe this year’s drama performance of Crumpled Classics.

The cast, a combination of middle and high school students, had to overcome adversity throughout the months of rehearsal, with both directors having to step in and assume roles. Even as late as Saturday’s performances, when a cast member caught the flu bug and another member stepped into that role last minute. All said, the performance was well enjoyed by the audience and enjoyed a hearty laugh or two all throughout the four acts. KUDOS to the middle and high school students who stepped up to learn their lines, and a few others’, as they brought the classical characters to life circa 2022. KUDOS also to Ms. Kirschmann and Ms. Schmidt for the tireless efforts as advisors, coaches, and cast. As they saw in show business, “the show must go on”!

NEWS FROM GRADES PK-6 OFFICE

April Greetings from the PK-6 Office!

Thanks to everyone who was able to attend the Science, Health & Fine Arts Fair in March! What a great event highlighting student work and talents! We would not have been able to have this event without the students who displayed Science experiments and projects, students who shared their musical talents, and students who made all the beautiful art work that was displayed all throughout the district. A special thanks to the fifth graders who also showcased various talents in the Talent Show and/or played in the band concert. Great job to all of the staff and students who were involved in this year's event!

Congratulations to the fourth graders who completed the NAEP testing in March! We look forward to seeing how our students compare to others around the country. We are now in the middle of the Wisconsin Forward Exam for Grades 3-8. A few grade levels began or finished up in March, while others will finish up in early April.

With Quarter 4 upon us, please continue to encourage your child to do his/her best each and every day. Students might need a little boost from parents/guardians and teachers in case "spring fever" starts to set in. Our common goal is for all of our students to persevere and finish the year strong!

Summer School classes will be offered in June, but on a limited basis this year. We are building classes based on the number of staff we have available to teach classes this summer. The dates for Summer School Registration will be April 20-29.

Registration for Four-Year-Old and Five-Year-Old Kindergarten for the 2022-2023 school year took place in March. If you know anyone who has a child who would be eligible to attend next year, but has not yet registered their child, please have them contact Miss Sell in the PK-6 Office at 920-986-3351 ext. 721.

Let's make it a wonderful month of April!

Kim Griesbach, PK-6 Principal

In other action, the Board approved salary and wage increases for the 2022-2023 school year. "While our budget for next year, as set forth in the three-year referendum, does not afford the opportunity to reach the CPI rate of 4.7%, I believe we have done well by all of our staff members with the total salary and wage compensation that the Board approved for next year," noted Mrs. Schweitzer, District Administrator.

The next regular meeting of the Board of Education is scheduled for Monday, April 11, 2022 beginning at 6:00PM in the Board Room (H139).

DATES TO REMEMBER

FIRST GRADE

It may seem as though spring will never come, but here in first grade, we're hoping for the best! In the next few months, we will be reading and writing about spring. We'll be keeping our fingers crossed that it will help bring sunshine and warm weather back to our area. Speaking of reading, please keep up that nightly routine of reading with your child. It's one of the most important stepping stones to a successful school year.

In math this last quarter, we'll be concentrating on the following units: time, fractions, 2D and 3D shapes, graphing, and solving additional and subtraction facts where there is an unknown partner ( $13 + \underline{\quad} = 18$ ). Here are a few ideas to help your child connect math to the real world: Time—Telling time to the hour and half hour on both analog and digital clocks. Fractions—when making/cutting sandwiches or fruit, etc. ask your child to cut the food in half or fourths. Give your child 8 slices of an apple. Ask him/her to divide the slices in half (2 groups), or give you a fourth of the slices (2 slices). Shapes—play "I Spy" with common objects around the room. For example, say "I spy a circle" (clock), "I spy a cylinder" (can of soup), "I spy a rectangular prism" (shoe box). Graphing—have your child take a poll of family members about which vegetable to have for dinner or which movie to watch at night. Have them tally the results and ask them to report them to you. You can always ask them other questions like, "How many more people wanted peas than broccoli," or "Which movie choice was liked the least?" Unknown Partner Equations—present everyday type problems: when shopping, tell your child you need 9 cans of soup, but you already have 4 cans at home, so how many should you buy right now? When cutting fruit, tell your child you had 10 slices of an apple, but now there are only 3, so how many did I eat? By involving your child in these everyday type situations, he/she will see how important math is in our lives and how we use it in the real world.

It's hard to believe that we're heading into our 4th quarter already. The students have come a long way. We're so proud of them! Give your child a hug and express how you feel, too.

~Mrs. Bellin, Mrs. Streblov and Mrs. Behnke

LMC News

By Mrs. Woodward

Battle of the Books Season Ends

On Tuesday, February 1st, four middle school teams participated in an exciting Middle Level Battle of the Books competition. All of the teams finished with very close scores (11, 13, 15, and 15). The competition ended with a 6th grade team, E.E.L., and the 7th grade team, The Trash Cans, answering several tie breaker questions. In the end, E.E.L. ended up victorious. Eden, Emma, and Lola represented Shiocton Middle School in the online state battle on Thursday, February 24 and placed 45th out of 128 teams. Thank you to Mrs. Hauser for co-advising the three 6th grade teams and for running the Middle Level competitions!

Four 8th grade students, also known as the Free-Range Chickens, made up our only Battle of the Books team at the Senior Level. They competed in the online state competition on Wednesday, February 23rd and placed 27th out of 48 teams.

Both state teams did a great job considering they were some of the youngest competitors at their respective levels. We celebrated the teams' successful completion of the Battle of the Books season with a pizza lunch after they finished the competition.

All nineteen Battle of the Books participants will celebrate on April 1st with an ice cream party!

Golden Archer Awards

The Golden Archer Award is Wisconsin's student choice book award. Only students in Wisconsin can nominate and vote on the books for this award. After reading the nominees at their level, 282 students voted for this year's Golden Archer Awards. To see how Shiocton students voted, visit <https://bit.ly/3MIHybX>. All 282 votes were submitted to be counted with the rest of the votes from around the state and here are the final results:

Hygiene Drive

The LMC will be collecting personal hygiene products during the month of April to help "clean up" library accounts before the end of the year. Please consider taking part in this worthwhile cause. Even if you do not owe anything, you can "pay it forward" to another person's account. All items collected will be donated to people in the community.

VIETNAM VETERANS VISIT SHIOCTON HIGH SCHOOL

Shiocton High School's U.S. History students recently had the privilege of meeting and hearing first-hand accounts about the Vietnam War from some of the soldiers who served in it. Students were visited by Mr. Bob Dieck and Mr. Bill Blom, both of Shiocton. Each man spoke of being drafted, his time in the service, and the many experiences that make his story unique.

Each veteran began by sharing a bit about his training and role during the war. Blom was drafted into the Army infantry and eventually ended up driving a tank with a flamethrower while Dieck, also drafted into the Army, worked as a cook. As the men spoke, it was clear they each had their own story but that some of their experiences seemed to be universal among all those who served in Vietnam. Among those common elements were heat, humidity, insects, and rodents that plagued soldiers as they clashed with an elusive enemy who put their lives in constant danger.

Dieck worked as a cook who was responsible for preparing meals for soldiers on base and delivering hot meals to those fighting in the surrounding areas as often as possible. With few "creature comforts" available to soldiers, a hot meal was certainly valued; however, as Dieck noted, sometimes cooks had few options to work with but did their best to ensure the food was as good as possible. Through his responses to student questions, it was clear working on a base did not necessarily guarantee security. Dieck spoke of constant concern about the local population, some of whom worked on the base, as no one knew who was actually friendly to the Americans and who was a potential foe. Rocket attacks and booby traps posed continuous threats.

Blom operated a flamethrower on a tank and spent much of his time in remote areas. As he told students, "I don't camp. I had enough sleeping on the ground under the stars in Vietnam." In response to a student question, Blom spoke about his arrival in Vietnam indicating their plane landed at night and all they could see as they approached were tracers and flares lighting up the sky. "Scary, scary, scary," he said wondering, "What were we getting into?" Blom was also part of the initial force to enter Cambodia, where he was wounded by shrapnel, an event that resulted in his Purple Heart. He also helped students understand more about the daily struggles of soldiers by describing snakes, insects, and jungle rot, which caused constant problems.

Both men spoke honestly to students about returning home, where they, like so many other veterans of this war, did not receive a proper welcome. Dieck noted, "You're kind of jumpy and have nightmares...takes a while to get back to normal." Blom added that he is still startled by unexpected loud noises as well, showing how the war did not completely end for soldiers just because they were back in the United States.

These veterans certainly provided an authentic learning opportunity for students, helping to make the information students have studied in class more real. "Students really appreciate the veterans' willingness to answer questions and share their personal stories," said teacher Elizabeth Schneider. "We are very lucky to have veterans in our community who are willing to help young people understand history and appreciate those who have served our country."

DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

With April being Diversity Month, the Diversity and Inclusion Committee is happy to share this article with some thoughts on diversity and ideas of how you can recognize Diversity Month.

April is Celebrate Diversity Month!

By: Kristen Conte, Business Program Director for Baker College

As well-known Rabbi Nachman of Breslau once shared, “If you believe breaking is possible, believe fixing is possible.” Nearly 200 years after his passing, Rabbi Nachman’s words still ring true as a message of inspiration and encouragement for us as we continue to work towards a greater understanding of diverse perspectives. His statement guides us in our celebration of other diverse and unique perspectives and cultures every day of the year, but most widely recognized during the month of April.

With a formal national induction of Celebrate Diversity Month stemming back to 2004, we are encouraged to look at the differences and similarities surrounding us and to honor and recognize these factors. By doing so, we are hopeful to glean a greater understanding of one another, and to also gain a greater appreciation for humankind.

During the month of April, and in honor of Celebrate Diversity Month, we can carry on the practice of encouraging the acknowledgement of our differences by engaging with facets of other cultures, perspectives, and lifestyles in significant ways. Below are a few suggestions from Voices-Visions.org (2020) that can open our eyes to new things in a fun way. You can do these things by yourself, with a family member, or even virtually with friends:

- Talk with someone from a different culture about the values and practices that they recognize
- Read a book, watch a movie, or catch a docu series that looks at different cultures, lifestyles, or topics from a multicultural lens
- Listen to a different type of music and learn a dance that goes along with it
- Try a food or new recipe that is native to a different culture
- Try to learn a new language via a free App or YouTube

Since most of us are spending more and more time at home these days, there has never been a better opportunity to give some of these ideas a try! You can also check out different ways to celebrate diversity this month on social media sites, with groups, pages, and messages created on Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter.

We hope you use this month as an opportunity to embrace all of the beauty that surrounds and makes each of us so wonderfully special. Always remember, as author and activist Maya Angelou once said, “. . . in diversity there is beauty and there is strength. We all should know that diversity makes for a rich tapestry, and we must understand that all the threads of that tapestry are equal in value no matter their color.”
